Back cover copy "Made in China" is a passionate, engaged ethnography. Ngai suggests that a silent social revolution is underway in China and that these young migrant workers are its protagonists. The dagongmei are women in their late teens and early twenties who move from rural areas to urban centers to work in factories.

They undertake physically exhausting work in urban factories for an average Pun Ngai's book should be required reading. Sell general listings with no success fees, plus more exclusive benefits with Choice by Trade Me.
